Abstracts

In SnapShot 56, TCL analyses the changes in new MVNOs, with the formation of Digital MVNOs, with the focus on data services, simplified tariff plans and internet-only distribution. A number of new MVNO companies are being formed as a subsidiary of an MNO, with their focus on the youth segment, crowd sourcing techniques or social networking. And existing MVNOs are trying to differentiate their services by offering a digital component rather than focus on low cost calls.

Contents
