Abstracts

According to “Canada Dehumidifier Market By Type, By End Use Application, Competition Forecast & Opportunities, 2013-2023”, Canada dehumidifier market is projected to surpass 250 thousand units by 2023, backed by increasing demand for dehumidifiers from residential sector due to rising respiratory problems such as asthma and other allergies. Additionally, growing concerns about increasing cost one has to bear due to corrosion, rising demand for dehumidifiers via online channel, and availability of low-cost energy-efficient dehumidifiers would fuel the market in Canada over the coming years. Other factors anticipated to boost demand for dehumidifiers in the country are rising availability of government-certified innovative products coupled with increasing demand for dehumidifiers from commercial and industrial sectors in Canada. “Canada Dehumidifier Market By Type, By End Use Application, Competition Forecast & Opportunities, 2013-2023” discusses the following aspects of dehumidifier market in Canada:
