Abstracts

France Bisphenol S demand stood at 3.26 Thousand Tonnes in 2020 and is forecast to reach 23.12 Thousand Tonnes by 2030, growing at a healthy CAGR of 19.50% until 2030. Rising sales of thermal paper are driving demand for Bisphenol S in France. Thermal papers are used in online billing through point-of-sale machines (POS) and for labeling food and beverage items. In 2020, more than 70 percent of thermal paper demand was generated from point of sale tickets and receipts thus increasing the demand for Bisphenol S in France. The growing construction sector is going to create demand for epoxy resin. The France epoxy-based adhesive market is highly competitive and comprises numerous international and regional players. This is expected to push the demand further for Bisphenol S as epoxy resin is one of the major end uses of Bisphenol S. Demand growth from other end uses include the rise in the demand for phenolic resins and polyurethanes. Growth in the demand for fine chemicals is also projected to rise the demand for Bisphenol S for the forecast period.

COVID-19 pandemic had a severe impact on the market, in general, and disrupted the country's economy. The manufacturing units were closed for a significant amount of time and disturbed the distribution channels. The rising threat of mass death convinced the government to maintain lockdown methods keeping the markets at a halt. The government is slowly controlling the consequences, and steadily market is regaining its composure. With a steady CAGR in the upcoming forecast years, the market may grow and present as a potential investment for the new market player that supports the market growth in the future.
