Abstracts

India LPG market demand stood at 30.6 Million Tonnes in FY2021 and is forecast to reach 36.9 Million Tonnes by FY2030, growing at a healthy CAGR of 1.78% until FY2030. An increase in the demand for Liquefied Petroleum Gas as a residential, industrial, and transportation sector is the major driver for the forecast period. The growing demand for clean cooking fuels in rural, as well as urban households, is expected to give a boost to the country's LPG market in the forecast period. Support of the government in form of initiatives and subsidies to boost the sales of LPG is contributing to fuel the market growth. During the COVID-19 pandemic, the Indian government ramped up wholesale distribution of LPG and retail distribution of LPG cylinders which fall under essential services. Demand from the household sector increased manifold to satisfy the growing demand due to the government's imposed lockdown restrictions and the increase in the number of consumers staying at home and preferring home-cooked meals. However, the demand from commercial and industrial sectors faced set back due to the temporary closure of the industries which may hinder the growth of the market.
