Abstracts

Italy Acetone market demand stood at 135.04 Thousand Tonnes in 2020 and is forecast to reach 173.65 Thousand Tonnes by 2030, growing at a healthy CAGR of 2.85% until 2030. Demand for Acetone in Italy is anticipated to grow commendably in the forecast period backed by the consistent increase in the number of investments to manufacture its high valued derivatives like Bisphenol A, Methyl Methacrylate, and Isopropyl Alcohol on the back of their consistent increase in demand. In addition, the surging demand for Acetone as a quality solvent owing to the ideal properties and the reliable cost is anticipated to enhance its preference significantly over other available substitutes in the forecast period.

Due to the outbreak of COVID-19 in 2020, the world economy was disrupted. The market was affected drastically, and production and manufacturing units were shut down. Furthermore, the major market players intentionally halted the production keeping their employee's health and wellness in mind. With imposed new regulations of the COVID-19 and proper precautions, the market is anticipated to regain its growth in the years to come. The pandemic is slowly being subsided and the effects are tried to be overcome by various methods. Once the market regains the full function of its production unit, the market is bound to show robust growth in the forecast period. The country suffered drastically during the first wave of infection in January 2020, which halted the complete economy of the country. The lockdown conditions were so severe although, by the end of June 2021, the imposed lockdown is expected to be relieved to a greater extent and the market is expected to regain its composure soon.

Produced as a by-product of phenol manufacturing, acetone is a flammable, colorless, volatile liquid that is a commonly used industrial solvent. Cumene process, Wacker process, and dry distillation are some of the other methods of manufacturing the acetone with the industrial-grade quality. The Cumene process is the most widely used method for producing both acetone and phenol. Acetone is further oxidized and treated to manufacture Bisphenol A (BPA), Methyl Methacrylate (MMA), and solvents.
