Abstracts

The global pet wipes market is expected to be driven by increased awareness about pet care products as well as the growing trend in developed economies to keep pets at home, which has increased expenditure on pet care, according to the American Pet Products Association's (APPA's) pet spending for dogs each year, the average cost of basic expenses to possess a dog is USD 1,480. Average annual costs for cat owners comes to about USD 902, which is expected to drive the global pet wipes market.

A surge in disinfectant product demand is expected to drive the global pet wipes market forward. Wet wipes are increasingly being used in healthcare settings and for personal hygiene. Disinfectant wipes are special purpose wipes used to protect against infection from bacteria, viruses, and other harmful microorganisms. Pet wipes can also be used to get rid of certain types of bugs or vermin.

One of the factors influencing the market growth for pet wipes products is the growing interest in pet humanization, which is being accompanied by a rise in demand for premiumization in pet care products. Another factor is the rising demand for wipes due to the coronavirus outbreak and the fact that using grooming wipes eliminates the need for time-consuming water rinsing.

Increasing Popularity of Pet Fashion Boosts Market Growth

The market is positively impacted by the growing popularity of pet fashion among pet owners, which is anticipated to fuel the market's rapid expansion over the coming years. Some pet owners are investing in comfortable and luxurious goods for their animals, which has prompted a lot of market competitors to introduce new products in the pet grooming service category. All of these reasons have led to the prominence of grooming pet wipes products in the pet sector. For instances, according to the American Pet Products Association's 2021–2022 National Pet Owners Survey, 70% of U.S households, or about 90.5 million families, own a pet (APPA). The basic annual costs for dogs and cats for grooming items are USD 47 and USD 31, respectively. As a result, the trend toward pet humanization and increased R&D spending are expected to fuel market expansion in the years to come.

New Product Category Emerge the Pet Wipes Sales Among Consumers

New product launches in the market are regarded as significant factors. Furthermore, the wipes are designed to clean their paws and bodies quickly and easily without using a lot of water and making a big mess. As a result, all of the preceding factors help to drive the growth of the pet wipes market. Thus, key market players are focusing on introducing new products and expanding their product portfolios in order to meet rising demand. For instances, in 2022, Animalcare has introduced new Plaqtiv+ dental wipes for cats and dogs for home dental care, providing owners with a convenient 'grab and go' dental care option that also allows them to become more comfortable with handling their pets' mouths before progressing to full toothbrushing. Similarly, in 2022, MightyGood added New Industrial Wipes and Pet Wipes to their line of healthy and affordable consumer products. The wipes are 50% larger than any other pet wipe on the market, and they function more like small towels than traditional cleaning wipes. The wipes which are made from bamboo and safe for any breed of dog or cat are designed to be tougher and longer lasting, allowing owners to easily wipe their dog's paws and coat after long walks or muddy play days at the park. Owing to all these factors, the demand for pet wipes is expected to increase during the forecast period

Organic Pet Wipes Aid the Market Expansion

As more people become aware of the harmful effects of the ingredients and chemicals used in products, there is an increasing demand for organic products and environment-friendly pet wipes products. As a result, pet owners are turning to greener, healthier, and organic solutions for their pets in order to address their health concerns. For example, in 2022, Adios Plastic, an eco-friendly pet product company, is introducing a line of compostable wipes for dogs. Each wipe has aloe vera and camomile and can be used to clean hands, paws, and other sensitive areas of the body. Similarly, the eco-friendly pet firm Pogi's Pet Supplies offers plant-based, fragrance-free, hypoallergenic pet wipes, which means they are free of parabens, alcohol, and harsh chemicals, deodorizing wipes for dogs and cats called Pogi's Grooming Wipes. The wipes also help to reduce dander and allergens on cats. As a result, the market's growth is being further aided by the demand for organic pet wipes products.
