Sulfamic acid (amidosulfonic acid, amidosulfuric acid, aminosulfonic acid, sulfamidic acid) is a dry, odorless, white, non-hygroscopic crystalline solid with the formula H_3NSO_3 , melting at 305°C and stable up to 260°C . The acid is soluble in water to the extent of 24.2 g. per 100 g. of water at 25°C . It is soluble in form-amide, slightly soluble in ether, acetone, methanol, and concentrated sulfuric acid. Sulfamic acid is slowly hydrolyzed in aqueous solution to ammonium acid sulfate. It is generally made by the reaction of sulfuric acid, sulfur trioxide, and urea.

Due to advantages such as handling ease, solubility and low corrosiveness, sulfamic acid is used for many diversified application areas.

Thus, sulfamic acid is extensively used in the synthesis of sweet-tasting compounds; as a curing agent in the plastics industry; in saphating, sulphonation and sulphamating reactions; as a catalyst in esterification process. Known for its optimum pH and chemical stability, the acid is used for the removal of excess of nitrites in a diazotization reaction in dyestuff and pigment production.

Further, sulphamic acid is super efficient descaling agent and is used for cleaning a variety of industrial equipment and domestic appliances.

Sulfamic acid is also used in the design of many types of therapeutic agents like antibiotics, nucleoside/nucleotide human immunodeficiency virus (HIV) reverse transcriptase inhibitors, HIV protease inhibitors (PIs), anti-cancer drugs, anti-epileptic drugs, and weight loss drugs.

Sulfamic acid market is covered in the study Sulfamic Acid (CAS 5329-14-6) Market Research Report 2012. The report encompasses proper description of the product, unveils application areas, and briefly summarizes patents in the sphere. It overlooks sulfamic acid market situation, names manufacturers, suppliers as well as users. The report also provides current sulfamic acid prices in the market.
