Abstracts

Global Nutricosmetics Market is estimated to reach $12.6 billion by 2024, growing at a CAGR of 12.6% from 2016 to 2024. Nutricosmetics are ingestible products used to enhance beauty and maintain good health of humans. These products are available in the form of beauty supplements, beverages or functional foods, which contain active ingredients with proteins, minerals, enzymes, lycopene, and botanical leaves. They consist of antioxidants and target nutrients for the treatment of skin, nails, and hair. Nutricosmetics enhances several functions including hydration, photo-protection, hair nourishment, skin lightening, hair growth, slimming, and skin repair. Increase in life expectancy, rising popularity of organic and naturally healthy food and beverages, and emergence of spa culture are supplementing the adoption of nutricosmetics among end users.

The global nutricosmetics market is driven by factors such as, aging population, increasing investments for developing enhanced products, rising concern towards health and beauty, and increasing demand for minimum invasive beauty treatments. Though, low awareness among end users and long downtime of these products to show results could hamper the growth of the market. Development of advanced products and rising marketing strategies to penetrate untapped markets would provide numerous opportunities in forecasted period.
