Abstracts

Plastic packaging identifies with packs, pockets, films, compartments and envelopes made of plastic. Plastic packaging is made of polymers, for example, high thickness polyethylene (HDPE), low thickness polyethylene (LDPE), polyethylene terephthalate (PET), polypropylene (PP), and polyvinyl chloride (PVC). Plastic bundling is portioned into inflexible plastic packaging and adaptable plastic packaging.

The global plastic packaging market can be segmented on the basis of product, application and geography. Its product segmentation includes rigid and flexible packaging. Food & beverages, industrial, household products, personal care, medical and others (including various components in automotive, etc.) are the segmentation based on application. North America, Asia Pacific, Europe, Latin America and Middle East Africa are the regional markets for plastic packaging.

The fast development of the foods and drinks industry has powered the interest for plastic packaging widely throughout the years. Expanding slant of customers towards adaptable plastic packaging is additionally animating the worldwide plastic packaging business sector to a huge extent. In option to this, the increment in the interest for plastic packaging from the pharmaceutical business is expected to impel the market development amid the forecast period. On the other hand, the increasing expenses of crude materials are anticipated to hamper the global market sooner rather than later.

Amcor Ltd., Ampac Holdings LLC, Bemis Company, Inc., Constantia Flexibles International GmbH, Huhtamaki Oyj, Mondi plc, Sealed Air Corporation, Sonoco Products Company, Ukrplastic Corporation and Wipak Group are the leading companies profiled in the global plastic packaging market report.
