2020 Down Syndrome PIPELINE HIGHLIGHTS

Down Syndrome is one of the widely researched conditions during 2020 with 13 companies actively focusing on realizing pipeline's potential. Development of Down Syndrome medicines is identified as integral to the strategy of the majority of companies operating in the industry.

Global Down Syndrome market presents promising new product pipeline with NME Projects, pivotal trials, and rapidly phase-advancing therapeutic candidates. Increasing number of companies are assessing the feasibility of developing treatment options for Down Syndrome.

Good progress is anticipated during 2020 and 2021 with Down Syndrome pipeline molecules advancing from pre-clinical investigation to completion of advanced Phase clinical trials. Down Syndrome pipeline continues to expand and progress with novel mechanisms and diverse routes of administration being tested by companies.

Down Syndrome DRUG DEVELOPMENT PIPELINE OVERVIEW

The "Down Syndrome pipeline Research Monitor, 2020" report is an analytical research study on the progress achieved by pipeline companies during the year along with its historical development, current status, and outlook.

This Down Syndrome pipeline review explores high-potential early to late-stage pipeline projects with a continued focus on new insights, accelerated processes, and pipeline progression.

The competitive intelligence report on Down Syndrome presents detailed insights into therapeutic drug pipeline development, industry news, deals, and analysis across the length and breadth of the Down Syndrome pipeline. Information on R&D pipeline updates, results of key clinical trials are also included in the report.

Down Syndrome DRUG PROFILES

Down Syndrome development pipeline including projects in early- and late-stage development are detailed in the report. Details of clinical trial data and submissions to regulatory authorities are also provided. For the drug candidates included in the report, the following information is provided-

Current Status of Development including phase advancements, regulatory approvals of phases, acquisitions, licensing and technology transfers, product launches in various markets, and others.

Phase of development

Mechanism of Action

Route of Administration

Companies involved including originator, licensing companies, developer, investors, and others

New molecular entity details

Orphan drug designation and other special status provided by regulators

Down Syndrome COMPANY PROFILES

Both small size and large size pharmaceutical companies are investing their resources in Down Syndrome drug development operations. Further, financial institutions are extending support to small pharmaceutical companies, universities, and other researchers for the development of treatment of Down Syndrome. Partnerships and acquisitions are also increasingly observed in the pipeline.

This research report presents an analysis of 13 Down Syndrome companies including company overview, key snapshot, contact information, and their strategies on accelerating Down Syndrome pipeline development. Mid-stage and early portfolios of these companies are analyzed in detail in the report.

Companies analyzed in the report include- AC Immune SA, Aelis Farma SAS, Alzheon

Inc, Annovis Bio Inc, Avanti Biosciences Inc, Balance Therapeutics Inc, Eisai Co Ltd, Elixirgen Therapeutics LLC, F. Hoffmann-La Roche Ltd, KinoPharma Inc, ManRos Therapeutics, NeuroCircuit Therapeutics Inc, NeuroNascent Inc

REASONS TO BUY

The current market conditions are forcing companies and investors worldwide to prioritize their investments and accelerate pipeline candidates only through careful quantitative assessment.

This research work assists decision makers in pharmaceutical companies towards successful pipeline development through critically evaluated pipeline data

Buyers can identify most promising drug candidates for treatment of Down Syndrome

It allows users to strengthen their pipeline through acquisitions, licensing and collaborations

Users can estimate possible delays in the delivery of pipeline or launch of new products

Stay ahead of competition through understanding their pipeline progression, strategies and outlook

The report details all the pipeline candidates under investigation in various stages of development from Phase I through to Phase III to enable business development managers to understand the impact of new launches.

Optimize your licensing and technology transfer strategies through identification of prospect partners
