Abstracts

The global Fishmeal and Fish Oil Market is estimated to generate $15.2 Billion in 2026. Further, between 2026 and 2032, the market size is forecast to grow at a CAGR of 5.1% to reach $20.5 Billion in 2032. This Fishmeal and Fish Oil report provides a comprehensive analysis across By Product Type (Fishmeal, Fish Oil), By Species Source (Anchovy, Sardine, Capelin, Menhaden, Other Pelagic Species), By Application (Aquaculture Feed, Poultry and Swine Feed, Pet Food, Dietary Supplements and Nutraceuticals, Pharmaceuticals), By Distribution Channel (Direct Sales, Feed Mill Cooperatives and Distributors, Online B2B Marketplaces), across 5 geographic regions, and 22 countries.

Marine Protein Ingredients and Sustainable Aquaculture Nutrition Demand

The global fishmeal and fish oil industry produces marine-derived protein and lipid ingredients primarily used in aquaculture, livestock feed, pet food and nutritional supplements. Demand continues to be driven by the expansion of aquaculture, where fishmeal provides highly digestible protein and essential amino acids while fish oil supplies EPA and DHA required for optimal growth, health and flesh quality. Feed manufacturers are increasingly balancing marine ingredients with alternative proteins while maintaining nutritional performance and feed efficiency. Sustainability, certified fisheries, traceable sourcing and responsible marine resource management have become central procurement criteria as customers seek lower environmental impacts without compromising product quality. Digital supply chain management, stringent quality assurance and advanced processing technologies are further strengthening the industry's role as a strategic supplier of high-value marine nutrition ingredients.

Marine Ingredient Innovation and Manufacturer Strategies

Manufacturers are strengthening competitive positioning through responsible sourcing, novel ingredient integration and digital feed formulation. Cargill continues expanding research into aquafeed formulation by increasing the use of certified marine ingredients, alternative raw materials and advanced nutritional modeling to improve feed performance while reducing environmental impact. Skretting released its latest sustainability impact report highlighting continued investment in responsible ingredient sourcing, climate initiatives and animal welfare while advancing collaboration across the aquaculture value chain through AquaVision 2026. At the industry level, IFFO – The Marine Ingredients Organisation continues reporting improvements in responsible sourcing, marine ingredient market transparency and sustainable fisheries management, reinforcing the industry's commitment to long-term supply resilience.

Manufacturer-Led Trends in Responsible Marine Sourcing and Alternative Feed Ingredients

Manufacturer activity demonstrates a decisive transition toward certified marine raw materials, diversified ingredient portfolios and digitally optimized aquafeed production. Companies are increasingly integrating fishmeal and fish oil with algae, microbial proteins, insect ingredients and other novel feedstocks to improve resource efficiency while maintaining nutritional quality. Investments in traceability systems, AI-assisted feed formulation and predictive quality analytics are enabling more precise utilization of marine ingredients across aquaculture species. Producers are also strengthening partnerships with fisheries, certification bodies and feed manufacturers to improve supply transparency and environmental stewardship. Regional processing modernization, energy-efficient production and advanced refining technologies continue to enhance product consistency, positioning fishmeal and fish oil as premium marine ingredients supported by sustainable fisheries management, nutritional science and continuous manufacturing innovation.

Shifting Consumer Expectations and Industry Transformation

Young and adult consumers across markets are increasingly scrutinizing products beyond price and brand, seeking greater visibility into ingredients or materials, their origin, manufacturing location, quality, sourcing practices, and environmental attributes. This is increasing the importance of ingredient lists, nutrition labeling, allergen declarations, certifications, sourcing information and other product claims, while also raising the bar for transparency and substantiation.

In addition, the industry is being reshaped by advances in AI, ingredient and formulation technologies, automation, digital commerce, packaging technology and data analytics, creating new opportunities to accelerate product development, improve product quality and optimize operations. However, these capabilities require higher capital commitments, particularly as companies invest in store expansion and refurbishment, automation, AI-enabled systems, digital infrastructure and other productivity-enhancing technologies.

Competitive dynamics are also shifting as private-label and disruptor brands raise value expectations across selected price points, pushing established players to sharpen their entry, core and premium propositions. Private-label expansion, adjacent-category opportunities, M&A and AI are consequently creating new avenues for growth for manufacturers, suppliers and other industry participants across both developed and developing markets.

Impact of Tariffs and Inflation Rates on Fishmeal and Fish Oil Markets and Companies

Tariffs and elevated inflation are directly reshaping the cost structure and pricing strategies of Food & Beverages and Consumer Goods companies. The impact is particularly visible in imported ingredients and raw materials, packaging materials, energy, transportation, and other internationally sourced inputs, while higher consumer prices are increasing pressure on household purchasing decisions. The IMF WEO Data 2026 projects global headline inflation at 4.7% in 2026, while the continued use of tariffs and other trade measures is increasing uncertainty around sourcing and cross-border costs.

The report quantifies the impact of tariff changes and inflation on the market by analyzing country-level inflation trends, tariff exposure, import dependence, input-cost movements and pricing conditions, and assesses their implications for market volumes, revenues and margins.

Key Value-Creating Activities and Participants Across the Fishmeal and Fish Oil Industry Value Chain

Fishmeal and Fish Oil value chains are becoming more cost-sensitive and closely integrated, with changes in input prices, sourcing concentration, production efficiency, packaging costs, logistics and channel economics directly influencing margins and competitive positioning at each stage.

The report maps the value chain from upstream suppliers to end-use channels, identifies the principal participants and value-adding activities at each stage, and assesses the relative importance of procurement, manufacturing, packaging, logistics, distribution and retail in the forecast period.

Canada Fishmeal and Fish Oil Market - Affordability, Retail Concentration and Supply-Chain Resilience Shape Market Growth

Over the past two years, Canadian companies have been focusing on value, supply-chain resilience and manufacturing efficiency to overcome trade and cost pressures. Retail demand also remained firm, with food and beverage retail sales increasing 4.4% year-on-year in December 2025, led by packaged dry foods, fresh meat and poultry, and snacks, according to Statistics Canada. The report identifies competitive pricing and product value, retailer access, diversified sourcing, productivity, brand positioning, and portfolio innovation as key success factors across the Canadian Fishmeal and Fish Oil value chain.

Mexico Fishmeal and Fish Oil Market- Rising Consumption, Manufacturing Expansion and Export Integration Drive Market Development

Mexico's Fishmeal and Fish Oil market is supported by a large domestic consumer base, established manufacturing capabilities, and strong export integration, while pricing remains an important consideration for consumers and manufacturers. The INEGI reported that the consumer prices for food, beverages and tobacco increased 5.13% year-on-year in May 2026, compared with 3.94% for overall consumer prices, keeping affordability and price management central to category performance. Leading companies are focusing on domestic manufacturing scale, ingredient availability, export competitiveness, product differentiation, efficient sourcing and supply-chain execution to gain profit margins.

Germany Fishmeal and Fish Oil Market- Private-Label Strength, Price Sensitivity and Manufacturing Efficiency Shape Competition

Value-for-money, private-label competitiveness, efficient sourcing, and cost control are central to market performance and continue to shape the market outlook. German food prices remained structurally above their pre-inflation baseline: the food and non-alcoholic beverages CPI reached 136.2 in 2025 (2020=100), compared with 121.9 for the overall CPI, although annual food inflation moderated to 2.0% in 2025. The market is also being influenced by Germany's policy push toward healthier eating and greater development of alternative protein products, creating additional opportunities for reformulation and product innovation.

France Fishmeal and Fish Oil Market- Premium Food Culture, Retail Transformation and Selective Consumer Spending Drive Demand

France's Fishmeal and Fish Oil market is being shaped by moderating food inflation, cautious household consumption and a shift in retail demand toward value and specialized formats. Household final consumption expenditure increased only 0.4% in volume in 2025, while household purchasing power declined 0.4%, keeping affordability and price-value positioning important despite the easing of inflation. Fishmeal and Fish Oil companies operating in France are balancing value-oriented pricing with quality and differentiation, strengthening supermarket and alternative-format distribution, managing procurement and supply-chain costs, and responding to increasingly selective household spending.

UK Fishmeal and Fish Oil Market- Import Dependence, Retail Concentration and

Product Portfolio Expansion Influence Market Growth

The UK Fishmeal and Fish Oil market is strongly influenced by import dependence, household affordability, and retail concentration. Consumer expenditure on food and alcoholic drinks reached ?303.3 billion in real terms in 2025, up 1.1%, with spending on food and drink eaten outside the home increasing 2.3% to ?137.7 billion, while household food expenditure was broadly flat. The structure of the industry also favors companies able to operate efficiently at scale: approximately 98.8% of UK food and drink manufacturing businesses are SMEs, creating a large and fragmented supplier base alongside major manufacturers and retailers. Over the forecast period, competitive pricing, procurement efficiency, product differentiation, retailer and foodservice relationships, import management and the ability to respond remain key success factors.

Spain Fishmeal and Fish Oil Market- Household Consumption, Tourism and Export-Oriented Manufacturing Support Demand

Spain's Fishmeal and Fish Oil market is supported by strong household food expenditure, a large tourism-driven consumption base and a highly export-oriented food industry, although consumers remain sensitive to price increases. Tourism provides an additional demand channel: international tourists spent €11.7 billion in Spain in April 2026 alone, up 7.4% year-on-year, including €1.99 billion on food and drinks, up 6.8%. Spain's food industry also reached a record level of exports in 2025, reinforcing its importance as an export manufacturing base and exposing producers to international trade conditions and supply-chain developments.

Italy Fishmeal and Fish Oil Market- Product Quality, Heritage and Export Competitiveness Remain Key Market Drivers

Italy's consumption structure favors companies capable of maintaining value across differentiated price points: household consumption expenditure averaged €2,738 per month in 2023, up 4.3% from 2022, although the increase reflected both higher spending and price effects. Italy's large manufacturing and export base supports demand for products with strong quality, provenance, and differentiation, particularly where Italian origin provides a competitive advantage. Companies that can combine Italy's established food-manufacturing capabilities with tighter cost control and differentiated products are better positioned to navigate slower domestic consumption and renewed price pressure.

China Fishmeal and Fish Oil Market- Digital Commerce, Brand Trust and Selective Consumer Spending Reshape Demand

China's Fishmeal and Fish Oil markets are being shaped by large-scale domestic consumption, rapid online retail expansion, increasingly selective spending and a widening performance gap between categories. Total retail sales of consumer goods reached RMB 50.1 trillion in 2025, up 3.7%, significantly outperforming beverages at 1.0%. Online retail is particularly important: physical-goods online sales reached RMB 13.1 trillion, representing 26.1% of total consumer-goods retail sales, while online sales of food increased 14.5% according to the National Bureau of Statistics of China. Established brands retain an advantage where consumers prioritize familiarity and brand authority, while the rapid expansion of online food sales creates opportunities for digitally native brands and manufacturers capable of using data, AI, and platform ecosystems.

India Fishmeal and Fish Oil Market- Rising Consumption, Increasing Investment and Expanding Distribution Create Growth Opportunities

India's Fishmeal and Fish Oil market is being supported by rising household consumption, a large and increasingly diversified consumer base, expansion of food processing and continued investment in formal food manufacturing. India's rural monthly per-capita consumption expenditure reached ₹4,122 in 2023–24, up from ₹3,773 in 2022–23, while urban MPCE increased to ₹6,996, highlighting the continued expansion of household purchasing capacity across both rural and urban markets. The supply side is also becoming more organized and processing-intensive. Digital commerce and AI-enabled consumer engagement are also becoming increasingly relevant, particularly as Indian consumers adopt digital tools across product discovery and purchasing.

Japan Fishmeal and Fish Oil Market- Aging Consumers, Household Price Sensitivity and Digital Purchasing Reshape the Market

Japan's Fishmeal and Fish Oil markets are being shaped by high food expenditure, renewed price pressure and increasingly cautious real household consumption, alongside a structurally mature consumer base. Price pressure has also remained visible in 2026, with Japan's headline CPI increasing 1.5% year-on-year in May 2026, while core inflation excluding fresh food increased 1.4%. Meanwhile, online purchasing remains an important route to consumers: 55.3% of two-or-more-person households used online shopping in May 2026, with food contributing materially to the increase in online-shopping expenditure. Companies also need to manage smaller household sizes and differing consumption patterns by age, while maintaining strong product differentiation in a mature market where incremental volume growth is more difficult to achieve.

Brazil Fishmeal and Fish Oil Market- Strong Domestic Consumption and Export-Oriented Manufacturing Drive Growth

Brazil's Fishmeal and Fish Oil market is supported by a large domestic consumption base, a highly integrated agricultural and food-processing sector, and exceptional export competitiveness, while renewed food-price pressure is keeping affordability important. The country's food and beverage industry generated R$1.388 trillion in revenue in 2025, equivalent to 10.9% of national GDP, with domestic sales reaching R$1.02 trillion; retail accounted for R$732 billion and foodservice R$287.9 billion. Real industry sales increased 2.2%, while companies invested R$41.3 billion, up 6.8%, including R$26.7 billion in innovation, plant modernization and new technologies.

Middle East Africa Fishmeal and Fish Oil Market- Import Dependence and Value-Added Products Gaining Steady Demand Growth

The Middle East Fishmeal and Fish Oil markets are being shaped by high dependence on food imports, food-security investment, urbanization, tourism, premium retail and increasingly selective consumer spending, with conditions differing substantially between Gulf markets and the wider region. The GCC recorded overall inflation of only 1.8% in 2025, while food and beverage prices increased 1.2%, indicating relatively contained consumer-price pressure compared with many global markets. Across the region, this combination of import exposure and localization is increasing the importance of supplier diversification, local production, inventory management, and efficient logistics, while strong tourism, hospitality, and modern retail ecosystems are supporting demand for differentiated, convenience-oriented, and premium products.

Fishmeal and Fish Oil Competitive Landscape

The Fishmeal and Fish Oil competitive landscape is becoming more fragmented as established multinational brands compete simultaneously with private-label products, regional manufacturers, digitally native brands and category-focused disruptors. Competitive advantage is increasingly determined by the ability to balance price, product quality, innovation, distribution reach and speed of response rather than by brand scale alone. The report provides detailed analysis of leading companies including business profile, SWOT analysis, products and services, and financial profiles of
