Abstracts

The global VNA and PACS market size is poised to register 6.7% growth from 2024 to 2032, presenting significant growth prospects for companies operating in the industry. The industry study analyzes the global VNA and PACS market across By Imaging Modality (Angiography, Mammography, Computed Tomography, Magnetic Resonance Imaging, Ultrasound, Others), By Type (PACS, VNA Software), By Mode of Delivery (On-Site, Hybrid, Cloud-hosted), By Usage Model, Single Department, Multiple Departments, Multiple Sites)

With the increasing demand for digital imaging and medical informatics solutions, there is a rising need for VNA and PACS platforms to store, manage, and share medical images and patient data across healthcare networks and systems. Market growth is driven by factors such as expanding healthcare digitization initiatives, the rising adoption of cloud-based and enterprise-wide imaging solutions, and technological advancements in data storage and interoperability standards. Additionally, the expanding applications of VNA and PACS in radiology, cardiology, and pathology, as well as the growing emphasis on data security and privacy compliance, contribute to market expansion. Further, the development of vendor-agnostic and standards-compliant archive solutions, the integration of advanced analytics and artificial intelligence tools, and the emphasis on scalability and interoperability are expected to further accelerate market growth in the coming years.
